Workshop Highlights

What do you know about Professional Project Managers? How is the life in their working environment? HKIPM is honoured to have successfully invited some competent professional project managers to share their valuable hands-on experiences and outstanding achievements in project management, together with the joy and tears throughout their personal career developments, with the audience.

This workshop is intended to provide a clear route and valuable insights for young professionals and members on how to become professional project managers in different disciplines, and the key roles of project managers in the genuine working environment, with the aim of equipping themselves in moving towards a professional project manager in future.

Group discussions about a recent real-life project case in Hong Kong based on a role play format will be launched and steered by experienced project managers. All workshop participants have an opportunity to voice out their own views, and interactive dialogues between the guest speakers and young members will be expected.

Complimentary seats of lunch gathering will be offered to all the participants after the workshop.
